Section 17

Marketing PAI and Off-the-Job PAI

New Accounts

When approaching a new company, try to contact the employer, owner, or president of the company first. You can never go wrong by starting at the top with decision-makers. They are busy, but they will see you if you offer something valuable and they know that you will not waste their time. Their power and authority can overcome any obstacles that arise in their business.

The employer, owner, or president of the company usually understands the importance of offering benefit plans and can facilitate the enrollment process. But if this person will not see you, no harm has been done. You simply refocus your energy toward the benefits specialist or human resource person.

The benefits specialist or HR person is certainly involved in this type of decision-making process. They often have extensive knowledge of payroll-deducted insurance and may be the person responsible for implementing our Personal Accident Indemnity plan.

First Buying Decision

Sell yourself. Ask the right questions. Agree on need. Restate need.

Develop rapport. Begin by asking open-ended questions about the business's operations. While asking questions, listen carefully and take notes. Do not give an employer an employee presentation. Forget the pitch.

- What does the business do?
- How is business?
- How many employees do you have?
- What types of employee benefits do you offer your employees now?
- What's the employee participation level in your plan?
- Do your employees share in the costs of their benefits package; if so, what portion do they pay?
- Do you deduct your employees' portion of the premiums before or after tax?
- What would you like to improve about your current benefits package?
- Who are your current providers, and are you satisfied with their service?

If the employer is not familiar with the current benefit structure, ask if the benefits manager or other responsible party is available. If not, reschedule the appointment to include all parties involved in the benefit decision-making process.

Employers respect logic. Adding new benefits or increasing current benefit levels builds employee morale and enhances employer-employee relations.

- If the employer owns a small business and competition for good employees is high, explain that employee benefits are a great recruiting tool.
- Explain that with today's rising deductibles and copayments and high managed care expenses, it is important for employees to have coverage that can help offset unexpected expenses.
- Say, "As I understand it, you have a concern about ... Is that correct?"

Second Buying Decision Sell the Company

- Make sure the employer understands how Aflac's voluntary benefits work and that the company doesn't pay a portion of the premium (our policies are 100 percent employee paid). In other words, there is no direct cost to the employer.
- Point out that Aflac's voluntary benefits enhance the employee benefit plan, thereby improving employee retention.
- Provide facts about Aflac. For example: A Fortune 500 company with assets exceeding $59 billion. Aflac is rated A+ (Superior) by A.M. Best (June 2005). Aflac is the number one provider of guaranteed-renewable insurance (National Underwriter, July 2004).
- Refer to similar payroll accounts in the area to which the employer may relate.

Third Buying Decision Sell the Product

- We have a plan specifically designed for companies like yours.
- That's why Aflac designed our personal accident plans-to meet the needs of companies just like yours.

Fourth Buying Decision The Cost (in Time and Money)

- Summarize the benefits and quote the cost in time and dollars.
- Group presentation or individual presentation? During your presentation to the employer, it is important to confirm with the employer whether he/she prefers that you make a group presentation or individual presentations. The employer may leave the decision to you.

Fifth Buying Decision The Time to Buy – Close the Sale!

- (Mr./Mrs. Employer), if three or more of your employees want to enroll in our Personal Accident Indemnity plan and wish to have their premiums payroll deducted, you will payroll deduct the premiums for them, won't you?
- (Mr./Mrs Employer), Aflac's Personal Accident Indemnity plans will significantly improve your employees' perception of your company's current benefits program. How do you see that helping you out? Would you like to go ahead?

Note: Aflac's Business Survey sheet may be downloaded from your Associate Services Web site.

Business Survey

Ι.	(Commitment Objective)
Date:Commitment	Objective:
Existing AFLAC Account:  Ves	No Group #
Company:
Address:
Address:
City:	State: ZIP:
Phone ()	Fax ()
Industry Code:
Contact Person:	Title:
E-mail Address:
II.	(Company)
□ What does your company do?	ess?
□ How long have you been in busin	ess?
$\Box$ How many locations does your co	mpany have?
$\Box$ Are there any related companies?
□ How many employees?	□ Full-time □ Part-time
$\Box$ How has your business changed in	n the past five years?
$\Box$ What's challenging in regard to or	ffering benefits?
	(Personal)
$\Box$ How long have you worked for th	is company?
$\Box$ Did you start the company	yourself?
□ What are your personal objectives	s for the company?
U What obstacles do you see	in reaching those objectives?
□ what obstacles do you see

MMC-98-394-R

		urrent Benefits)
	our current benefits plan
		ate: Administrative cost?
$\square$ what type of pl	an? Eligibility	URM 🗆 Credit 🗆 Core
□ What benefits d		an ata 9
□ Major N	Tedical Employee c	costs?
Copays	1	_ Deductible
How many	<sup>7</sup> employees participate	e in family coverage?
	$\square PPO \square PO$	/ per hour/week
	$\Box PPO \qquad \Box PO$	) $\Box$ AD&D (Max. \$)
□ Group L	nte (Max. 5)	$J = AD \alpha D (Max. 5)$
	ental/Voluntary Benefits	18?
		Individual STD  Intensive Care
	□ Vision □ ]	Legal I HIP Long Torm Care Critical illness
		Long-Term Care  Critical illness
□ Group I □ Group Med. Su		No Coverage amount $
		od Benefit PeriodDollar Max
		iod Benefit PeriodDollar Max
		No Claims? Yes No
D WOIKCIS COM	$\frac{1}{2}$	No Employee absenteeism Yes No t (pension) plans do you
		it 🗆 IRAs 🔅 Defined Contribution
EMPLOYER ISS
		ng/retaining employees?
$\Box$ How good is yo	care trends impacting v	your business?
EMPLOYEE ISS		your ousiness.
		efits?
$\Box$ How do employ	mmunicate the value of	f your company's benefits package with your employees?	initialite the value of	your company's ochemis package with your
YOUR POSITIO
		ers?
		ce?
TIME FRAME		ar?
	alth insurance nlan year
$\Box$ What is your he	alth insurance plan year	a vour company tax dollars on a monthly basis when
□ What is your he □ (If non-Flex) If	you could begin saving	g your company tax dollars on a monthly basis, when
<ul> <li>□ What is your he</li> <li>□ (If non-Flex) If</li> <li>would you like to</li> </ul>	you could begin saving start?	g your company tax dollars on a monthly basis, when
□ What is your he □ (If non-Flex) If would you like to BUYING INFLU	you could begin saving start? ENCE	g your company tax dollars on a monthly basis, when
<ul> <li>□ What is your he</li> <li>□ (If non-Flex) If</li> <li>would you like to</li> <li>BUYING INFLU</li> <li>□ Who, besides you</li> </ul>	you could begin saving start? ENCE ou, decides on health ca	g your company tax dollars on a monthly basis, when are?
<ul> <li>□ (If non-Flex) If</li> <li>would you like to</li> <li>BUYING INFLU</li> <li>□ Who, besides you</li> </ul>	you could begin saving start? ENCE ou, decides on health ca	g your company tax dollars on a monthly basis, when
<ul> <li>What is your he</li> <li>(If non-Flex) If</li> <li>would you like to</li> <li>BUYING INFLU</li> <li>Who, besides you</li> <li>How do you go</li> </ul>	you could begin saving start? ENCE ou, decides on health ca about making decisions	g your company tax dollars on a monthly basis, when are?
<ul> <li>What is your he</li> <li>(If non-Flex) If</li> <li>would you like to</li> <li>BUYING INFLU</li> <li>Who, besides you</li> <li>How do you go</li> </ul>	you could begin saving start? ENCE ou, decides on health ca about making decisions (Nea	g your company tax dollars on a monthly basis, when are?
<ul> <li>What is your he</li> <li>(If non-Flex) If</li> <li>would you like to</li> <li>BUYING INFLU</li> <li>Who, besides you</li> <li>How do you go</li> </ul>	you could begin saving start? ENCE ou, decides on health ca about making decisions (Nea	g your company tax dollars on a monthly basis, when are?